Marina Kotsa

marina.koca.21@ucl.ac.uk | Nationality: Greek, EU-settled status

Education

Princeton University Jan 2025 – June 2025

Visiting PhD student in Economics

- Hosted by: Prof. Gianluca Violante
- Related modules: Macroeconomic Theory II (taught by: Prof. Nobuhiro Kiyotaki and Prof. Gianluca Violante), Advanced Macroeconomics II (taught by: Prof. Gianluca Violante and Prof. Karthik Sastry)

University College London (UCL) Sept. 2024 – Sept. 2028

Mphil & PhD in Economics

- Advisors: Prof. Morten O. Ravn (main advisor), Prof. Jose-Victor Rios Rull (second advisor)
- Scholarship: Onassis Foundation PhD Scholarship (2024-28)
- Related Modules: Heterogeneous Agent (taught by: Prof. José-Víctor Ríos-Rull), Advanced Macroeconometrics (taught by Prof. Raffaella Giacomini), Advanced Macroeconomics at LSE (taught by Prof. Benjamin Moll)

University College London (UCL) Sept. 2023 – Sept. 2024

Master of Research in Economics (Distinction)

- Related modules: Econometrics (70%), Macroeconomics (71%), Microeconomics (71%), Real Analysis (68%)
- Scholarships: ECB Scholarship for Women, 2023-24 (15 out of 340 candidates), UCL Masters Scholarship (2023-24), UCL Studentship Award
- Dissertation: How Does Monetary and Fiscal Policy Interaction Affect Consumption Inequality in a Hank Model? (73%)

University College London (UCL) Sept. 2021 – Sept. 2022

Master of Science in Economics (Distinction)

- Related modules: Macroeconomic Policy (79%), Time Series Econometrics (74%), Econometrics (70%), Advanced Macroeconomic Theory (60%)
- Best Dissertation Prize: Deconstructing Monetary Policy Surprises— Do Systematic Changes in the Monetary Policy Committee matter? (85%)

University of York Sept. 2018 – Jul 2021

Bachelor of Science in Economics (First Class Honours)

- Overall grade: 76% (top 3%)
- Dissertation title: The Impact of the Brexit Vote on the UK's Output: a Synthetic Control Method Approach (84%) (Best Presentation Award)
- Achievements: Second-year cohort: top 1%; ranked first in the Bubbles Panics and Crashes (83%), Economic Growth and Development (88%) and Econometric Theory I (82%) modules

Working Papers

1. Deconstructing Monetary Policy Surprises: Do Systematic Changes in the Monetary Policy Committee Matter? (2024)
2. How Does Monetary and Fiscal Policy Interaction Affect Consumption Inequality in a Hank Model? (2025)

Experience & Volunteering

PhD Summer Inter June 2025 – Sept. 2025

Bank of England

- Collaborating in a research project in Monetary Policy Outlook Division aiming to estimate the UK HANK model using business cycle data and Bayesian estimation techniques, in the Sequence-Space Jacobian toolkit.

Graduate Teaching Assistant Sept 2024 – Sept. 2028

University College London (UCL)

- ECON0002: Economics, First Year Undergraduate students taught by Prof. Wendy Carlin

External Marker June 2024 – June 2028

London School of Economics (LSE)

- External Marker for the EC2020-Elements of Econometrics module taught by Prof. Dang Canh

Pre-doctoral Research Fellow in Economics Sept 2022 – Sept. 2023

University College London (UCL)

- Collaborated closely with Prof. Morten O. Ravn on new macroeconomics research projects, utilising large datasets and advanced analytical tools
- Trained in a broad set of economic research topics working with programs such as MATLAB and Python

Professional Activities & Conferences

- Scheduled: Princeton University Macro Seminar Presentation (April 2026), NBER Monetary Fiscal Policy Boot camp (May 2026), NBER Macroeconomic Behavioral Boot camp (May 2026), 1st Piraeus International Economic Conference (June 2026)
- Attended: NBER Heterogeneous-Agent Macroeconomics Workshop with A. Auclert, A. Bilal, M. Rognlie, and L. Straub (June 2025)
- Attended: IMF Spring Annual Meetings (April 2025)
- Presented: 18th South-Eastern European Economic Research Workshop, Bank of Albania (November, 2024)
- Study Visit at the ECB & meeting with the President Christine Lagarde (November, 2024)

Technical Skills, Activities & Interests

Languages: Greek (Mother tongue), Albanian (Native), English (Native), Spanish (Proficient), Italian (Conversational Proficiency), French (Currently studying)

IT Skills: Python, Matlab, Stata, Refinitiv, MS Office package, LaTeX

Activities: Private Econometrics tutor (2018-Present), President of the Greek society at the University of York (2020-21), Marketing Officer of the Economics and the Latin American societies at the University of York (2019-20)

Interests: Ballet (Classical-The Vaganova Method, Professional Level), Classic Art, Spanish and Latin American current political affairs